750 Formula is for lightweight two-seater sports racing cars and was originally introduced by the 750 Motor Club in 1949, as its first racing formula. The regulations provide ample scope for the budding amateur to design and build his own car, and to develop his skills in chassis / suspension design and engine tuning within carefully controlled limits; alternatively there are often suitable cars available for sale from within the formula. The championship is supported by WESPREY CASTINGS of Willenhall, whose foundry produces a wide range of aluminium castings for both general and automotive use, including 'one-off' productions.

The 1996 Yokohama Formula 4 Championship provides the technical sophistication of slicks and wings in an affordable single seater championship. Class A allows any design of chassis and caters for the designer/constructor as well as for cars converted from F3, FFord, FF2000 and Formula Renault; all must use either 1300 Xflow or 1600 CVH Ford engines. Class B is for FF2000 cars built prior to October 1983, running to the former FF2000 regulations.

Formula Vee is the ideal championship for beginner and 'expert' alike, looking for competitive single seater racing on a low budget. It has been run by the 750 Motor Club since 1980 and is probably the cheapest way to go single seater racing in the UK. Cars can be bought fully constructed, in 'kit' form, designed and built by the driver or hired ready to go. Engine, gearbox and much of the suspension and braking system is from the VW 1300 Beetle and this, along with a Dunlop 'control' tyre puts the emphasis on driver ability to win races.

With four carefully chosen class structures to ensure close competition for everyone, even cars from one-make series will find a place with more interesting competition. All cars must have a current MoT and run on road legal tyres, but considerable engine tuning and modifications to suspension and brakes are permitted.
